Aloha from Beautiful Hawaii!

The world's travelers are always welcomed in the United States. In the Hawaiian Islands, travelers can count on being greeted with the warmth and goodwill of aloha.

Hawaii is revered for how we welcome everyone with respect and dignity. We celebrate native cultures and honor ethnic diversities, and our commitment to embracing these core values is ingrained within how we live.

Freedom to travel is a right that encourages a greater understanding of people from around the world. We know that to be true in Hawaii perhaps better than any other destination.

To travelers worldwide, come visit the United States without hesitation and know you will be welcomed.

And if you want to experience the only place in America with its own native music, dance and language, a place where the term aloha isn't just a greeting but a treasured way of life, the Hawaiian Islands awaits you with open arms.

With Warmest Aloha,

George D. Szigeti
