¹ 2016 visitor data are the final numbers and reflect data from the National Travel and Tourism Office and updated reports from airlines. 2017 data are preliminary.

Market Summary

- Through October 2017, visitor arrivals (-0.4% of 328,327) was flat while visitor days rose slightly (+1.2%) compared to year-to-date 2016. Daily spending (-4.5% to $274 per person) was lower compared to year-to-date 2016 and contributed to a 3.3 percent decline in visitor expenditures to $864.1 million.
- Airlift increased 2.3 percent to 514,641 seats in 2016. The majority of the growth in air seats was attributed to Jetstar's new service – Brisbane to Honolulu, (however this service was subsequently suspended indefinitely in October 2016),² Air New Zealand's increased capacity – Auckland to Honolulu, and Qantas increasing service – Sydney to Honolulu. Through October 2017, air capacity from Oceania declined 8.4% to 401,167 seats.
- Hawaiian Airlines routes and connectivity throughout the State is contributing to greater neighbor island awareness in Oceania. One of HTO's key goals is to increase awareness of neighbor island offerings and to encourage visitors to travel to more than one island. While overall number of visitors from Oceania have decreased during the first ten months of 2017, visitation to Kaua'i (+9.9%) and the Island of Hawai'i (+14.3%) has increased.

Market Conditions

- The Reserve Bank of Australia cash interest rate is forecast to remain low through 2017, which is expected to drive growth.
- The Australian dollar rebounded in the second half of the year, reaching $0.79-$0.80. This is good news for Aussies considering travel to Hawaii.
- Unemployment has sat at around 5.7% for most of 2017 and is anticipated to remain around this level over the next year or so while inflation is predicted to sit at around 2%. Reserve Bank of Australia. Wages growth however remains flat.
- Other potential impacts on the Australian economy include mortgage and rent stress as housing prices and rental accommodation prices in Australia's capital cities continues to soar and remains a hot topic in the media and around the water cooler.
- Overall, business confidence remains buoyant, however consumer confidence is flat as Australians are concerned about rising living costs and flat wages growth.
- The New Zealand economy is predicted to see GDP growth of between 2.5% and 3.5% over the next few years.
- The unemployment rate has dipped below 5% which is a sign of NZ's economic growth, and is predicted to be stable.
- After a year of exchange rate falls, the New Zealand dollar appears to have settled and strengthened to a range between $0.65 and $0.73 cents. The 2017 General Election surprise – which saw a new coalition government formed – has led to a slight softening in the NZD, but still within that range.
- 2016 was record year for outbound travel from New Zealand with over 2.6 million departures (up 9%). 2017 has continued that trend, exceeding the previous year's record departures.
- Tourism Research Australia predicts that outbound short-term resident departures from Australia will continue to remain at record levels, with growth of 4% predicted in 2017/18. Australians' outbound travel to the US (which includes Hawai'i) is expected to grow 3.8% to 1.1 million visitors in 2017/18.

² This service was suspended as of October 2016 due to soft load factors, leaving Hawaiian Airlines the only carrier flying Brisbane-Honolulu
