Market Summary

- 2018 was a record year for both visitor arrivals (+3.7% to 415,764) and visitor days (+3.7%) compared to 2017. Daily spending (-3.2% to $260 per person) was lower compared to 2017; however, overall visitor spending increased slightly by 0.4 percent to $1.05 billion. In 2019, visitor arrivals (-12.8% to 362,360) and visitor days (-15.0% to 3,410,118) decreased. Slightly lower daily spending (-0.5% to $259 per person) also contributed to a decline in visitor spending (-15.5% to $883.4 million).
- In 2018, air capacity from Oceania increased by 10.3 percent from 2017 to 533,000 seats. In 2019, scheduled air capacity decreased 10.9 percent compared to 2018, with fewer seats from Auckland New Zealand (-17.7%) and fewer combined seats from Brisbane, Melbourne, and Sydney, Australia (-3.0%).

Market Conditions

- The outlook for the Australian economy remains unchanged. GDP growth over the first half of 2019 was stronger than it was over the second half of last year and figures suggest that growth will continue at a moderate pace. The September quarter figures were released, showing the economy grew by just 0.4 percent, below expectations and slower than the previous two quarters. Mid-year tax cuts aimed at stimulating the economy have not had the desired impact with consumer spending remaining flat. During December, the Australian dollar remained consistent, trading at US$0.68.
- There has been an increase in the number of flights available from Australia to U.S. destinations, resulting in very competitive fares and providing travelers with more choice on where to holiday in the USA.
- The New Zealand economy has shown growth through 2019 (albeit slow) with the government also posting a surplus. The New Zealand dollar has experienced fluctuations through the year, and for the majority keeping above US$0.65.
- Outbound travel from New Zealand continues to grow, exceeding 3 million trips in a calendar year.
