

Fact Sheet: Benefits of Hawai'i's Tourism Economy

Hawai'i Tourism Industry in April 2022¹

Prior to the global COVID-19 pandemic, Hawai'i achieved record-level visitor expenditures and arrivals in 2019 through February 2020. On March 26, 2020, the state implemented mandatory quarantine and travel restrictions. Subsequently, nearly all trans-Pacific and interisland flights were canceled, cruise ship activities were suspended and tourism to the islands all but shut down. In October 2020, the state initiated the Safe Travels program, which allowed travelers to bypass quarantine if they had a valid negative COVID test. Through March 25, 2022, domestic passengers could bypass the state's mandatory self-quarantine if they were vaccinated or have a negative COVID pre-travel test. The Safe Travels Program ended on March 26, 2022. In April 2022, there were no travel restrictions for passengers arriving on U.S. domestic flights. Passengers arriving on direct international flights were subjected to federal U.S. entry requirements which included up-to-date vaccination document and a negative COVID test taken within one day of travel, or documentation of having recovered from COVID in the past 90 days.

Total spending by visitors who came to the islands in April 2022 was $1.60 billion, an increase of 21 percent compared to the $1.32 billion reported for April 2019. A total of 818,268 visitors came to the Hawaiian Islands in April 2022. Of the total visitors, 809,612 arrived by air service, mainly from the U.S. West and U.S. East. Additionally, 8,656 visitors arrived by cruise ships. In comparison, 849,397 visitors (-3.7%) arrived by air and by cruise ships in April 2019. The average length of stay by all visitors in April 2022 was 8.68 days, up from 8.25 days (+5.2%) in April 2019. The average daily census² was 236,835 visitors in April 2022 compared to 233,616 visitors (+1.4%) in April 2019.
